By GENEVIVE KIMBLE

THE planetary configurations ruling on this day presage a sudden and far reaching event which may have a very radical bearing on the affairs, as well as on the environment New contacts and affiliations are in order with probable dealing with strangers in the making of new contracts or important agreements With initiative under high stimulus and the ambitions well directed there is promise of distinct rise in position with personal popularity and much gratification

Those whose birthday it is may prepared for a year of surprising and far reaching changes which may have important bearing on the life and environment New propositions and associations may bring them into popular renown and be attended by much personal gratification Writings and documents are prominent

A child born on this day should be pleasant original and ingenious and should reach a high place in public popularity by its own talents as well as personal popularity

The Annapolis ordinance prohibiting parking for over two hours between 2 and 5 a. m. has been annulled by the council of that Maryland city, the machines of five of the ten members of the city council having been tagged recently for overparking. Councilmanic duties in Annapolis must be mighty strenuous, we'll say.

Liquor was the greatest revenue producer of the province of Quebec for the year ended March 31, the income from it being $8,560,791, a gain of $1,360,791 over the year before, so the Quebec liquor commission announces, confirming the report that American tourist travel in Canada last year was the heaviest in the history of the dominion.

Up to June 1 first-class North Atlantic travel eastward had fallen off eighteen per cent, and westward twenty per cent., the same decrease approximately being noted in second-class travel, while tourist third cabin and third-class showed decided gains. American travelers evidently have become wise to the folly of burning up more money for a six-day sea trip than they need spend traveling first class on land for a month.

Cheap at the Price.

"We insist that the further development, and even the continuance of soviet-American trade, will be an almost impossible task," Peter A. Bogdanov, president of the Amtorg Trading corporation, of Russia, located in New York City, told the Fish house committee, "unless the accusations against the corporation are thoroughly investigated by your committee, and, as we confidently expect them to be, are found baseless."

Putting it another way, the Amtorg corporation, which has been shown is backed by and working under the Moscow government, tells the house committee investigating communism that it must be given a coat of whitewash or it will stop dealing in the United States, which will mean a loss to this country of the profit on the sale of approximately $100,000,000 worth of goods annually.

Press dispatches show that Mr. Bogdanov did not make a good impression on the committee. He professed that he wanted the operations of his corporation thoroughly investigated, and yet he closed up like a clam when really vital questions were asked him, and it was not brought out that Amtorg was an agency of the state bank of Russia till he was threatened with citation for contempt.

It was brought out that the head of the Amtorg was in this country illegally, and the committee manifested its belief in the genuine character of the Amtorg letters in the possesion of former Police Commissioner Grover Whalen, of New York City, showing that the Amtorg was not only a trade organization, but also served as headquarters for communistic activities here which had their inception in Moscow.

Both Mr. Bogdanov and John Ohsol, vice president of the Amtorg, who also testified, proved unwilling witnesses when pressed on points which might tend to show merit in the charge that Moscow used their organization for the spreading of communistic propaganda.

If Mr. Bogdanov is sincere in holding that Russia will shut up its trading show and call its agents home in the event that it is not cleared of the charges against it, that should prove an easy route to the accomplishment of a very desirable end. It is hard to conceive how the United States could better work benefit to itself at comparatively trifling expenditure than by getting the Amtorg out of the country at the price of the profit on business amounting to $100,000,000 annually.

The Italian Earthquake.

Each succeeding report from the zone rocked by the Italian earthquake adds horror to the story of the catastrophe. The dead, estimated at 100 Wednesday, are now said to number over 3,000. Thousands of persons are suffering from injuries and thousands of buildings are in ruins, many of them mere piles of crumbled mortar and stone. It is easily the most disastrous earthquake Italy has suffered since that of December 28, 1908, which destroyed the Sicilian city of Messina, and the Calabrian city of Reggio across the strait from it, and claimed a toll of 84,000 dead in the former city alone. That mighty convulsion, the death toll of which was augmented by fire and a seismic wave, like this of the present week, came at an early morning hour.

The full force of Wednesday's convulsion was centered about Mt. Vultura, an extinct volcano almost exactly due east from Naples and a short distance south of the city of Melfi, which was destroyed and the living of its population of 20,000 rendered homeless, but the entire ankle of what is known as "The Boot of Italy" was rocked from Naples on the Tyrrhenian sea on the west to the Adriatic sea on the east, and what the resultant property loss will be is at this time not even a matter for conjecture, all the effort of Italy being directed to the digging of the dead and injured out of the ruins of the two score or more of cities and towns in the stricken district and making proper disposition of them.

Italy has suffered greatly from earthquakes and volcanic disturbances in the past and will probably continue to suffer from them in the future, not because of her latitudinal position, as some may assume, for the territory rocked Wednesday is in a direct line east from the city of Philadelphia, but because of the manifest fact that the Italian peninsula is over a great earth fault, as testified by the earthquakes she has suffered, to say nothing of the activity of her volcanoes, the death toll of which has been staggering. But the Italians are alike courageous and resourceful, and the result has been that although an Italian city may be destroyed, it will arise again, of which Messina is a notable example.

And so many have been her catastrophes as the result of seismotic disturbances that Italy is probably better prepared than any land upon the face of the earth to effect works of rescue necessitated by such calamities. Her training is that of experience, and it was due to this fact that within a few hours of this last horror organized rescue work was in progress over the entire stricken area.

How great the economic loss may be; what, if any, assistance the Italian government may need, is not as yet known, but if there is need, the Italian people may be assured of the sympathy of the civilized world and its readiness to give of its resources.

Scores of moonshine stills in the Blue Ridge mountains have been destroyed and the operators routed by forest fires, according to a dispatch from Hagerstown, Maryland. That's one way of putting a crimp into Demon Rum, but about champion as we are of the prohibition law, we would not see it enforced at the sacrifice of the country's woodlands.

The use of governmental funds for the purchase of liquors, the hiring and repairing of automobiles, printing and engraving expenses and club dues has been barred by executive order to all American embassies and consulates. The first eight railroads to report for June showed net operating incomes aggregating $10,368,000, a decrease of 26.7 per cent. from $14,137,000 for the corresponding month of last year. That can hardly be incorporated into the glad song of returning prosperity.

A Pittsburgh woman has made complaint to the safety director of that city that the spirit of her late husband, which comes to her nightly, is driven away almost immediately by the lurid language of the golfers on a miniature course next to her home. Tracks of a giant dinosaur, which existed perhaps 40,000,000 years ago, have been discovered near Cameron, Arizona, at an elevation 700 feet higher than those found out there last winter and arouse the hope that not only its skeleton, but also its eggs, may be found. Any one hankering for a real antique in the way of a dinosaur egg should put in an order now, before the rush is on.

Australia is recovering from the economic depression experienced down there as a result of a serious slump in the wool crop, a year's strike in the coal industry and the bad season for the wheat crop. Dr. Clarence Wilson, general secretary of the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals, who is there investigating conditions under the Ontario liquor control act, says that Toronto has more bootleggers than any city of its size in the United States. It may be said that the doctor is taking in an awful lot of territory, but unquestionably bootleggers are sufficiently numerous up there to preclude the possibility that any visitor may die of thirst.

Editorial Opinion.

GLENN HAMMOND CURTISS.

In the 1890s mechanically inclined youths tinkered with bicycles. Of the thousands of such young men who did strange and wonderful things in home-equipped shops three became America's leaders in aviation, the Wright brothers and Glenn H. Curtiss. Aviation is too young to have a "grand old man." If Curtiss, who died yesterday at the unreasonable age of fifty-two, had lived twenty years longer he would have been a worthy candidate for the title by virtue of years. By right of achievement he was that already.

He helped at the birth of aviation and followed it up. Like the Wrights he was self-taught. Ignorance, which might have been a handicap, helped him. It led him to attempt to accomplish things that a better educated man would have "known" to be impossible.

Also, like the Wrights, he was poor. He skimped on clothes and food to buy materials for his homemade planes and gasoline to run them. Whenever some one posted a prize for a long-distance flight of 100 miles or so, Curtiss turned up with a plane that looked like a couple of box kites, shoved it into the air and usually went home with the money.

He risked his life freely, frequently and cheerfully. Between prize flights, one of them from Euclid Beach to Cedar Point in 1910, he barnstormed about the country, the first of a hardy race of daredevil flyers who lived by air showmanship.

Yet always he was preparing to be a manufacturer, to lead aviation into big business. The war helped him achieve that ambition. It also made him rich and then almost poor again when after-war deflation nearly swamped him. Yet it never broke his spirit, the indomitable spirit of the pioneer.

Aviation owes an enormous debt to Glenn H. Curtiss, flyer, engineer and business leader.—Cleveland Plain Dealer, July 24.

KEEPING ALL THE PARTY PROMISES.

With the senate disposing of the naval treaty, both branches of congress have now completed their work. It includes the redemption of all the major promises made by the Republican party in the last presidential campaign. Representative Tilson, the floor leader of the house, mentions a few of the great accomplishments, such as the reduction of taxes collectable this year to the extent of $160,000,000; enactment of the tariff law; creation of the federal farm board with increased protection for agricultural products; approval of the French debt settlement; transfer of prohibition enforcement to the department of justice; the authorization of new federal prisons, and the revision of air mail contracts on a more liberal basis.

In addition an intelligent attempt has been made to relieve the unemployment situation by a government building program to the amount of $553,000,000 and river and harbor expenditures of $165,000,000. To this must be added an annual authorization of $55,000,000 for public roads. Mr. Tilson points to these things proudly and says: "I challenge the production of a better record anywhere in all of our congressional history." He calls attention to another fact which is worthy of thought. It is that the Republican party has been in power "with comparatively brief exceptions for seventy years." There must be a reason for this. Mr. Tilson gives that reason: "It is that when the Republican party makes promises it keeps them."

It would be foolish to contend that all the virtue rests in one party. Many of the Democrats assisted in the passage of certain of these legislative enactments; but in too many instances they made purely partisan fights against important legislation which the Republican party had promised to give the people. In the matter of the tariff they voted for schedules which would help their localities, and then voted against the bill as a whole. It was a case of trying to get both the penny and the cake.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

IT REALLY HAPPENS.

Taxi drivers are now giving to each customer a receipt showing the amount due, the date and the number of the cab. These receipts are useful in recovering lost articles which may have been left in cabs. Also if anybody presents receipts amounting to $4.80, the driver allows a five per cent. rebate and the owner is further entitled to a twenty-five cent ride free.

The drivers also are now carrying umbrellas in their cabs and in case of rain, conduct their passengers to the door of their destination.

You haven't noticed this? Probably not. It isn't happening in Detroit, Michigan, but in Berlin, Germany; and the story is all true, except that we have given the money values in United States coinage instead of marks. And in spite of all the special rebates and accommodations the regular taxi rates are lower in the German capital than they are in the automobile capital.—Detroit Free Press.

An Evidence of Weakness.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

"Taking cold" in hot summer weather is disgusting to us and to our friends. It seems an evidence of weakness, and it is really an indication of weakness. It shows that the system is out of gear.

When you lose sleep, eat meals at all hours, spend hours and hours at hard work in dusty, smoke-laden rooms, you are sure to get an unfavorable reaction. The first thing you know you are sneezing and coughing, and maybe you have started the most obstinate kind of a cold.

You are liable to colds if you neglect to bathe regularly. In the hot weather, when the body wastes are thrown off by the skin in the perspiration, daily bathing is imperative if the skin is to be kept in good condition.

Cleanliness of the mouth and teeth is essential. The germs of colds, influenza and tuberculosis are ever present to make inroads in the body by way of the nose and mouth. The nostrils and mouth should be kept clean because they are the hiding places of many kinds of germs.

With a reasonable care to our bodies we do not need to fear these germs. But when we are tired out or run down from bad habits of living and eating then it is that the resistance of disease is low and we are easy prey for the germs.

As a matter of fact, we are terribly careless of these bodies of ours. Haven't you seen boys and girls throw themselves, overheated, on the grass after a strenuous game of tennis, or even go in bathing when they are overheated. Then comes a chill, and they may be made ill by the quick chilling of the body.

The condition called a "cold" is almost always accompanied by constipation. One of the causes of constipation is eating too rapidly. Eat slowly. Don't bolt your food. Chew it thoroughly. Do this because the process of digestion begins in the mouth.

The time to deal with a cold is in its first stages. When you have sneeziness, chilliness, running of the nose, a smarting or burning of the throat you may know trouble is on the way.

The best thing to do is to get into a tub of water hot as you can bear it. Add hot water as it cools. Keep this up for some time. Then go to bed between blankets and drink a lot of hot water or hot lemonade after you get into bed. This will bring on a perspiration, and in this way the poisons are more quickly thrown off from the body. After the sweating is over, sponge off with cool water and get into a dry bed for a good sleep. You probably will feel much better in the morning on waking.

Every moment that can be spent out of doors in the summer time is a distinct asset for the coming winter months indoors. Without plenty of sunshine and fresh air, at least moderate exercise every day, and a proper amount of rest and sleep, and well-balanced and regular meals good health can not be maintained. Live rightly and the summer cold will be a thing of the past.

In London.

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

London, July 25—London's herb merchants and itinerant musicians inspired Hogarth to many of his unlovely etchings of life in the raw. And to me they give the city a good humored bustle and charm it would not otherwise have. They are an odd mixture—half hooligan and half Shylock—that poverty spews up from its depths.

One shriveled old lady on Cockspur street offered from her barrow the chill of Spitzbergen and the warmth of Sahara with rows of half penny dabs of ice-cream, a mouthful on a stick, and a tiny cornucopia of roasted chestnuts. Alongside of her was a sidewalk artist sketching the masterpiece he will sell for sixpence when finished.

Thousands of outstretched hands offer every variety of flowers—from Scotch heather to daffodils. Toys jump about on strips of black-cloth to the surreptitious tugs of hidden threads. Match-sellers, balloon hawkers and criers of handkerchiefs, pencils, dolls and other play-pretties are everywhere.

On Haymarket a shuffling figure approached me in an effort to sell two-penny-worth of fish bait in a soiled paper. When I showed no interest he called after me: "Fine fishing along the Thames!" and cackled derisively, the triumphant author of the mot juste. Fishing along the Thames is like fishing along the Seine.

In the mews where squalor hides away so successfully behind Tudor trappings the strolling singers lend a picturesque cheerfulness. They chant the coster songs of many verses—the bait, the blind and the maimed. There is one coster refrain about "Bertie, Me Lad" reputed to have more than a thousand verses.

No people the world over are so hopefully optimistic as the street minstrels of London. In a bleak blind courtyard in the rear of the Savoy a little band of four huddled in a drenching downpour tooting madly for more than an hour although in that time only one small coin was tossed to them.

For the lovers of domestic pets there is a treat in store along Leadenhall market filled with live stock shops. Here one may purchase marmosets, gold fish, puppies, kittens, bullfinches, bantams, guinea pigs, pigeons and even bright-eyed foxes for the chase—if one is that utterly heartless.

Bleak drab days have always had a charm for me. Consequently, the fogs of London are a constant delight. They have a way of rolling up softly from a gentle mist into a deep, fugitive and mysterious density. The whole city seems to hang magically in a leaden sky. All that is harsh in its architecture is obliterated. There is indefinable beauty and romance in the wraith-like blobs of street lights. I always look for adventure in a fog.

* * *

Incidentally, I am told London has fog forecasters just as we have weather specialists in America. On the south side of the Thames is a spiraling chimney and when the first light mist appears the expert goes to the top and broadcasts his warning so that extra pressure may be given the furnace fires for the lighting plants all over the town.

Fire.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

Poets, artists, scientists, philosophers all agreed that civilization dates from discovery of the uses to which fire c be put for man's advantage and improve The snatching of fire from the chariot of sun by Prometheus stands today, as in past, as a sort of poetic symbol of eternal quest for knowledge. The use, fire in various forms, has become the co point in various religions in the course human history.

In the past year the Methodists lost me bers. Baptists gained. So did Presbyteria and Lutherans. Catholics gained also. I spite their loss, the Methodist is still largest Protestant denomination, with Baptists almost neck and neck. Toget these two denominations have a few m members than the Roman Catholic chur All of which means little, interesting to s as the figures may be.

Now that you belong to a church, just w are you doing about it? Does it mean a thing to you? Better yet, do you make mean anything to anybody else? Think over. After all, what's in a name or a nomination or a list of names?

Dinner Stories.

"How did Bliggins come to be prostra by the heat?"

"Overexcitement. He got into an ar ment about the best way to keep cool in weather."

Maid—"Are you going out in the car Sunday, ma'am."

Mistress—"No."

Maid—"Then I'd like to ask for the of it; mine's being repaired."

"One of the greatest purifiers," said careful housekeeper, "is whitewash."

"Yes," answered the cynic, "it is good anything from a damp cellar to a fail bank account."

* * *

"Well, doctor, how am I?"

"Very well; your legs are still a bit sw len, but that doesn't disturb me."

"I understand, doctor; if your legs w swollen, it wouldn't disturb me."

* * *

Prize Fight Manager—"Say, you're s posed to be in training. Why are you sitt around here with these birds telling stories?"

Pugilist—"I'm developing my reach."

MOUSER, SMITH FOR DRY LAW

Both Candidates for Congress from Eighth District Answer League.

By Brush-Moore Leased Wire

COLUMBUS, O., July 26—Both candidates for congress from the Eighth Ohio district—Grant D. Mouser, Jr., of Marion, the incumbent, a Republican, and Carl W. Smith of Kenton, Democratic aspirant, have answered the questionnaires of the Anti Saloon League of Ohio as to their stand on prohibition, it was announced here today.

Both candidates have pledged themselves for the enforcement of the prohibition laws.

Mouser, who is serving his first term in congress, wrote: "I am glad to reply to your inquiry relative to my stand on the eighteenth amendment and the enforcement of the prohibition law. As a member of congress, I have supported the various measures in which the dry people were interested, and to repeat my statement of two years ago when I first was a candidate for congress, I am in favor of the eighteenth amendment and the enforcement of the prohibition law."

Smith's reply stated "I favor the eighteenth amendment and the enforcement of the prohibition law."

UNITED GRANGE TO PICNIC AT LAKE

Sugar Grove Selected as Place for Outing Aug. 13, at Regular Meet.

Plans were made for a picnic Aug 13 at Sugar Grove lake, at the meeting of United Grange No. 1001 last night at the Claridon centralized school. During the business meeting a report on the progress of the recently organized orchestra was given. Announcement was made of the fea ture to be given by the junior grange July 31 at the school building.

The program hour opened with a song "Rural Ohio the Beautiful," and Charles Smith and Royal Fields entertained with a play. Miss Hazel Trout and Miss Rosella Fletcher contributed a group of vocal selection accompanied on the ukelele by Miss Fletcher. The program concluded with a play "A Backyard Quarrel" by Harold Smith and Charles Lynch. A contest was held during the social hour.

The next grange meeting will be Aug 14.

Marion Important Point in Erie System, Club Told

Kiwanians Hear T. E. Andrews, Assistant General Freight Agent, in Talk at Noon Luncheon; Points to City's Location as Strategic; Club To Aid Children.

"Declaring that all the American railroads asked in the future was fair competition and fair treatment," T. E. McAndrews, assistant general freight agent of the Erie railroad, told members of the Kiwanis club at the noon luncheon of the club yesterday "that the railroad had always been a factor in the life of the United States and that it would continue to be."

McAndrews spoke to the club concerning the place of Marion in the future of the Erie railroad. No particular promises concerning the addition of railway facilities for the city were made but the talk in general showed the city as being in a favorable location for continuation as a strategic point in the Erie system.

Aside from the principal talk given by McAndrews, the organization made arrangements for the free transportation yesterday afternoon of the children of the Marion county Children's home from the home to the Chautauqua now in progress at Garfield park. Arrangements were also made for the transportation from Camp Robert A. Uhler of the 30 undernourished and under privileged children who have been in the camp as guests of the Kiwanis club for the last two weeks. The children will be returned to their homes in Marion Saturday.

Several members of the Bellefontaine Kiwanis club will be present at the meeting of the local group next Thursday noon to present an appeal for aid in attempting to get the state to locate a new tubercular hospital in this district.

Nothing definite has been done concerning the movement to obtain the hospital for the district but the Bellefontaine group is trying to gain the cooperation of five counties, including Marion county, to petition the state to build a hospital somewhere in the district. Additions to the program for next Thursday's luncheon will be announced later.

No Doubling Back on Pleasant Sunday Trip

A trip that requires no "doubling back" but instead opens up new territory as the route is followed is of fered week-end tourists by the Marion Auto club.

The itinerary would take the motorist and his family to Mt Vernon, Sunbury, Delaware, Marysville and back to Marion.

Starting from Marion, route 95 is followed through Mt Gilead to Mt Vernon, route No. 3 from Mt Vernon will take the traveler south to Sunbury, and route No 17 west of Sunbury will lead to Delaware. From the latter college town route No 32 should be followed to Marysville, and route No. 1 from the latter city will bring the tourists back to Marion.

Near Mt Gilead may be seen the birthplace of Warren G Harding, late president, at Blooming Grove, while at the Mt. Vernon cemetery is the grave of Daniel Decatur Emmett, composer of "Dixie Land." Near Centerburg, mid-way between Mt Vernon and Sunbury, is Robbins Lake, an excellent watering place, while at Delaware may be seen Ohio Wesleyan university, a stone marker designating the place of birth of Rutherford B Hayes, once president of the United States, and south of the city is Perkins observatory of Ohio Wesleyan university.

The women's state reformatory is located just south of Marysville and is only two miles out of the way of the traveler as he rounds into the "home stretch" of the tour.

A man who brags about himself hasn't time to notice your good points.

WITH EDNA S DUTTON

GENUINE entertainment coupled with a wit that is sparkling and different lifts Anne Green's first novel The Selbys to a niche of its own The author has chosen an entirely different type of people from her brother Julian, with the result that her characters trot gaily through life apparently lying each day to the fullest and anticipating something pleasant always It is a delightfully charming book for summer

The Selbys are Americans by birth and Parisians by adoption They afford an interesting background for their niece Barbara an orphan who comes to them from their home in Georgia and immediately adapts herself to her surroundings Setup By the friends of the Selbys or above the commonplace and the reader finds a new delight in meeting them on at a time or in groups

Barbara is more than interested in Georges Lemoine but becomes engaged to Michael Saint Amour who is interested in writing and whose sincerity in his friendship place him in embarrassing situations at times

Barbara's affairs do not in any way place the lives of her aunt and uncle in the background Aunt Virginia proves herself a real financier when she discovers her husband's flair in the stock market and an infallible of their devotion to each other is discovered when the author has them celebrating the anniversaries of their various disagreements

The novel is published by E P Dutton & Co

Englishman Writes on India

AN Englishman has taken him to task for their treatment of the long suffering Indians and make in the title of his book Must England Lose India?

The writer is Lieut Col Arthur Osburn D S O an British army officer and medical man who lived in India many years and who thinks he found the root of the trouble in that teeming country of a hundred million souls

It was he believes in the English public school system which is not at all like the American The cruelty with which he found the Indians treated he traces directly to similar cruelty with which the older boys cow youngsters and Osburn says develop into snobs

Thus he believes they are themselves all set to become Negrophobes when they enter the Indian civil or military service.

India Osburn says is held and governed by might and not by right His book is an appeal to the English governing classes to drop a little of their stupid arrogance and racial and caste snobbery Haunts for the sake of that heterogeneous country about which they are always shouting but which they are constantly doing their very best to make unpopular and consequently insecure

Osburn also takes up Miss Katherine Mayo's statements in Mother India He executes the Indians morals on climatic and psychological grounds This book is a stinging rebuke written with emotional and Osburn believes

Three Novelists Write of Scotland

HUGH WALPOLE makes an excursion into historical fiction in Rogue Herries his contribution to Scottish lore

The eminent Englishman draws a picture of a man's soul against the background of early Scotland Rogue Herries tried in his life to overcome the inner workings of his mind A lonely, introspective ruffian his utter longing for companionship of a stimulating sort drove him into the role of a wandering, haughty vagabond gentleman seeking elsewhere what his well meaning, wife failed to supply

Two other novels which have to do with Scottish folk are Claire Bryan's Gallows Orchard and Nan Shepherd's The Weatherhouse The former is a rising tragedy of a girl stoned to death for disregard of the severe morality of her neighborhood The Weatherhouse treats with characters whose slightly left

HETTY GREEN a woman who loved money is presented in all her eccentricity avarice, occasional charitableness and more frequent common sense and humanity in a biography by Boyden Sparkes and Samuel Taylor Moore

The portrayal of the woman who was a financial Titan in the early days of the century is not an endearing one The picture of the principal in a series of law suits questionable deals and domestic disturbances is lightened by a bit of philosophy or self revelation that gives a more human aspect to the mysterious woman whose shadow brought woe to the Wall Street of pre war days Hetty Green was an unfailing source of anecdotes and few seem to have been overlooked by the authors

"America Moves West" Is Story of Pioneers

ROBERT RIEGEL tells the story of the magnificent sweep westward across the continent which began well over 300 years ago and is not yet fully ended in his book "America Moves West" The story tells graphically of the first slow movement toward the Appalachian mountains of the arduous and exciting progress towards the Ohio and Mississippi valleys of the frenzied rush towards the hoodlums and the Pacific and of the restless pioneering spirit which quickened the conquest and settlement of this vast continent The author stresses especially the social and economic elements which stimulated this march from frontier to frontier and the political and cultural points of view which became identified with the frontier settlement

"Close-Hauled" Is Story of Author's Life

"CLOSE HAULED by Henry K Lusma is a story of the life of the author aboard ship cruising from barren wastes above the Arctic circle to the spicy latitudes of the East Indies This writing is hailed as the finest sea writing since Conrad and his description of his struggle for education as an immigrant in this country is both picturesque and absorbing

A SIMPLE STEP TOWARDS HEALTH

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a Daily Essential and Millions Know Its Effectiveness in Relief of Constipation

Perhaps the one simple thing you are not doing to guarantee permanent health is having sufficient roughage in your food. Absence of this roughage is the direct cause of constipation which results in so many other ills—headaches, listlessness, general depression, indigestion and, sometimes, serious disease.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is roughage. It is positively guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation or the purchase price will be refunded. Two tablespoons daily (in serious cases, with each meal) is the proper amount.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also helps you to health in other ways. It is rich in iron, practically all of which goes into the blood, bringing red, healthy color to the complexion It helps prevent anemia. Be sure to include it in reducing diets.

Many eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with cream or milk added. It is a delicious addition to cereals, fruits and soups. In cooked foods, such as bran muffins, it is just as effective in the relief of constipation Recommended by doctors. Ask your grocer for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

SHORT SHIP ENTRY LISTS SET RECORI

SENSATIONAL PACING MARE HEADS CIRCUIT ENTRIES IN MEETING

Stables at Fairground To Be Taxed to Capacity During Week's Racing.

With all the available stalls in every stable within hailing distance filled, Marion's five-day program of short ship racing that starts Monday is attracting what is called by Frank Foster, secretary of the Marion Driving Association, the largest and greatest lot of horses ever to race over a half-mile track in this country. Grand Circuit horses, champions all, just look 'em over.

Going down the entry lists we find the names of Winnipeg, world's champion pacer, who will try to break the local track record of 2.03¼ set in 1928 by Grattan Bars; May E. Grattan, champion pacing mare of the year and winner of the $25,000 Koinzanzo pacing derby last week; Peter Cowl, 2:02, winner of the $25,000 trotting stake at Toledo last year; High Noon, world's champion trotter on a half-mile track; and Labrador, when won the $25,000 pace at Toledo early this year.

These are just a few of the famous racers who will be found at the five-day meeting that is expected to draw the best crowds in many moons to the Fairground track next week. Men are working on the stables, track and grandstand all the time in order to have everything in tip-top shape for the meeting. Advance sales for box seats are going fast and at the present rate, most of these choice seats will be taken before the first race starts.

Shovel Club Wallops Roundhouse To Tighten Industrial Rac

Compton's Loss Keenly Felt In Sport Circles

THE promotion of Allen "Baldy" Compton, Hardin, cage mentor for the past four years to assistant coach at Wittenberg college, will leave a vacancy in the athletic department of the local high school that will be extremely hard to fill.

Although never winning a league championship themselves, Compton's teams specialized in keeping other favorites from doing that little thing. Particularly poison to Mansfield teams, Baldy was something of a nemesis to the well-known Coach Murphy of the Tigers. The Compton machines seemed to take especial delight in walloping Murphy's combines, so much that in the past couple of years the motto of the Mansfield cage teams has become "Beat Harding."

Compton's tournament teams were the surprise of the Wesleyan tourneys and despite the fact the Red and Black outfits never won one they've reached the finals once and eliminated some favorites in quite a few others before going down to defeat. Compton's wonder team of 1927 will long be remembered. This was the team that just had a fair season in the league play and then went to the tournament and knocked off Columbus Central, Lancaster and Mt. Vernon, all strong favorites to reach the finals where they lost a heart-breaking 21 to 22 game to Columbus South.

They've been great years "Baldy" and may you enjoy many more at your Alma Mater. Good luck to a great coach and a better man.

PERKINS LOOMING AS LIKELY CHAMPION

Don Moe Eliminated by Johnny Lehman, Who Tackles British Star in Semi-Final Round.

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 25—T. Philip Perkins, the methodical Briton today stood out as the heir apparent to Don Moe's western amateur golf championship.

As the tussle for the crown, dropped by Moe yesterday, entered the semi-final round over the Beverly Country Club course, he not only had the reputation but a game that appeared invincible to this three rivals—Johnny Lehman and Ira Couch of Chicago, and Bob McCrary of Des Moines, Iowa.

Perkins, now a resident of New York but still a hope of Great Britain amateurs, toured the championship course with a 69, two strokes under par, yesterday to win a dramatic, uphill skirmish in the quarter finals against Jack Westland, Chicago district champion. It was the best score ever carded on the course even though officials refused to accept it as a course record because it was made in match play. But the score and great come-back had its effect and today he ranked as the man to beat for the title.

Opposing the former king of British amateurs today in the 36-hole quarter-final round was the same young man who upset Moe one up, by sinking a 35-foot putt for a birdie three on the thirty-seventh hole yesterday. A great golfer in match play especially, Lehman was expected to give the bespectacled Perkins a hard fight but the Britan was the heavy favorite.

The McCrary-Couch battle was somewhat of a toss-up variety with the odds slightly in favor of the Iowan because of his greater tournament experience and his consistently brilliant fighting qualities.

McCrary, twice trans-Mississippi champion, copied Perkins to win his quarter final match from Gus Novotny of Chicago, 1928 runner-up, yesterday.

Couch reached the semi-finals with ease, conquering Charlie Fish of Rockford, Ill., six and five.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Jimmy Foxx, Athletics—Hit 27th homer with one on in ninth to beat Indians.

Chick Hafey, Cardinals—Accounted for three Cardinal runs with two homers, double and single.

Roy Sherid, Yankees—Held Tigers to seven hits and beat them, 5-2.

Fred Lindstrom, Giants—Homer in first inning beat Pirates, 1-0.

Ray Phelps, Robins—Blanked Reds, 0-0, with three hits in five-inning game.

Earl Webb, Redsox—Clouted Brown pitching for homer, double and two singles.

COURT STAR TO GIVE UP TENNIS

NEW YORK, July 25—Ill health has forced Helen Jacobs, America's second ranking player, to quit tournament tennis for the rest of the season.

Weakened by a severe attack of pleurisy and quinsy, she was withdrawn from the Seabright Lawn Tennis and Cricket Club tournament and from the national championship and will return to her home in Berkeley, Calif., on Sunday.

31 HITS—31 RUNS

Peoria Club Goes Wild in Contest Against Quincy.

By The Associated Press

PEORIA, Ill., July 25—A record of some kind belongs to the Peoria Three Eye league club.

In a night game with Quincy last night, Peoria crashed three pitchers for 31 hits, and scored in every inning to win by 31 to 0. The only member of the blood-thirsty club who failed to hit safely was pitcher Virgil David, former University of Iowa southpaw. The big damage was done by shortstop Bluege, a brother of Washington's Ossie, who had two triples, two doubles and a single. Outfielder Duffy scored six runs.

Local Ball Team Wins Over Crestline Nine, 4-3

A picked team of local recreation ball players defeated the Hamilton Red Feathers of Crestline last evening at that place by a score of 4 to 3. Neither team scored until the sixth when Marion edged across two runs on home runs by A. Baldauf and Niemeyer. The locals' other two runs came in the eighth on a walk to Brahm and hits by Niemeyer and Willie Baldauf.

The home team staged a rally in the eighth that netted three runs but fell one short of tying the score. Mutt Kellogg gave up only two hits in the nine innings, errors accounting for the Crestline scores. Marion collected six hits off Johnson.

The scores by innings:

Marion ..... 000 002 020—4 6
Crestline ..... 000 000 030—3 2
Kellogg and Conkle; Johnson and Vargo.

ROBINS KEEP SLIGHT LEAD OVER CHICAGO IN NATIONAL CHASE

Get Split with Reds as Cubs Win Slugfest in Philly, 19-15.

By International News Service

NEW YORK, July 25—In one of his plays, Old Bill Shakespeare has a character climb on a garden wall to shout "the prince of darkness is a gentleman" and how heartily the Brooklyn Robins agreed today. For by striking out on purpose to hurry along the innings as black rain clouds storm brought artificial evening, the flock managed to have their night cap tilt with the Reds called in the fifth inning, winning 9 to 0 to keep the league lead over the Cubs by a cigarette paper margin.

The great Dazzy Vance himself ascended in the opening of the first game and superb relief hurling by Ash, who replaced Campbell finally won for the Reds, 4 to 3. With the sacks filled Ash fanned flowers in the ninth and made Frederick fly out, ending the Robin rally.

With three men on base and one out this same prince of the night decided things in the New York-Pirates game, ending the contest in the seventh inning 1 to 0 in the Giants' favor. Carl Hubbell greeted the darkness and rain with a smile for he marked up a one-hit victory.

Another for Ruth

Roy Sherid's pitching and homer No. 36 by Mr. Ruth wrote a Yankee triumph over Detroit, 5 to 2.

Each team making 17 hits, the Cubs won one of those modern lively-ball slugfests from the Phils, 19 to 15. Cuyler got four hits.

Jimmy Foxx whanged his twenty-seventh four-baser in the ninth inning with one on and the score tied to snare the game from the Cleveland Indians, 8 to 6.

Although he gave 13 hits, Ted Lyons was lucky and chalked his fifteenth win of the year as the White Sox shelled the sliding Senators 10 to 4. Reynolds of the Hose got four bingle-bangles.

Chick Hafey hit two homers, a double and a single but the rest of his teammates were thinking of something else and Boston lowered the Cardinals 5 to 4. Smith was the winning hurler.

Earl Webb registered a circuiter, a double and two singles and won for the Ruddy Sox of Boston over the Brownies, 8 to 5.

FRENCH FAVORED T KEEP TENNIS TROPH

Draw Gives Defenders Big Advantage in Davis Play, Opening Today.

By The Associated Press

AUTEUIL, France, July 25—Battle lines were drawn today for the opening of play in the Davis Cup challenge round with the defending tennis stars of France favored to beat back America's threat for the third successive year.

The gloomy forebodings voiced by the French after the debacle of Wimbledon had given way today to enthusiastic optimism. Partisans of the tri-color felt the apparent return to form of Henri Cochet clearly gave the cup defenders the advantage.

With Big Bill Tilden matched with Jean Borotra and Cochet battling Lott in the opening singles matches, the possibility of a double French victory was foreseen in some quarters with French leanings. The luck of the draw enabled France to deploy her tennis forces to best advantage. Borotra, confronting Tilden on the opening day, should prove a more formidable opponent than might have had the draw pitted against the tall Philadelphian. A third day of the series after two of strenuous competition, also would have been counted greater chance of defeating had the draw enabled him to the French ace today instead Sunday when the fire edge of h petition may be gone.

Despite predictions of a doub for France today, most experts inclined to believe nightfall find the two teams deadlocked victory apiece.

CITIZEN HITS AT GAS CO. IN LETTE

John H. Clark Says Utility "Passes Buck" to Council in Franchise Effort

A charge that the Ohio Fuel Gas Co is attempting to obtain its higher rates by dealing with council rather than with the public utilities commission is made in an "open" letter written by former John H Clark and received today by Mayor L Dan Jones It is one of a number of such letters received by Mayor Jones since the franchise controversy started today

Mayor Jones would not act on the letter which accused the gas company with an attempt to drive a "better bargain" with council, "which does not have and cannot obtain the facts necessary for a reasonable rate," that can be had from the utilities commission which does know the facts

Charges Buck Passing

Clark also charges the company with passing the buck to the people as the group of individuals responsible if the company can not secure a fair rate through the machinery to which higher rates when the company is entitled would be to blame

The writer of the letter takes the gas company to task for the advertisement in The Star which he claims is full of holes from his standpoint

In the first place Clark points out that the company admits its rates to be inadequate in spite of the fact which holds that every public utility shall furnish necessary and adequate service Yet he claims the company asks the public for higher rate to pay the cost of furnishing this "adequate" service

Does it not seem foolish he asks that the gas company officials do not spend the $125 000 per year interest their mains when they increase their rates delivery cost more than 100 per cent as they state

Company Also Protected

"Again the company says in the advertisement 'it does not expect to make large earnings' That is fixed by law will not permit it to so The officers of every public utility and that same law protects both the city Clark declares

Let us not forget that the same officials who are now clamoring for a rate cut has determined by their own rates commission over-appreciated the values to the value of their property and that the franchise ordinance that the company wants passed by the council is beyond a doubt based upon the over-appreciated valuations of company officials he says
